

PCA Helps Customer Package Goods for Those in Need

February 25, 2014

This past year, PCA participated in a campaign sponsored by one of our largest customers. “Feed the Needy” is a fundraising drive that provided meals for over 5,400 people this past holiday season, thanks to the efforts of our customer and their participating vendors.

Working in conjunction with United Way, this year’s campaign collected 1,350 boxes of perishable and non-perishable goods for area families, growing from 125 boxes in 1997. PCA participated by donating the boxes used to pack these good.

According to Ruth Rawlings-Banks, Chairperson and CEO of Feed the Needy, “I take notice each year of how well the employees of our companies come together for this common cause. I see the mutual regard for safety, quality, teamwork and serving those in our community that depend on this outreach each year. This connectivity permeates across all lines and boundaries for the betterment of the community.”

PCA is proud to support Feed the Needy’s cause — to provide food, clothing and toiletries to those in need.
