

Fairfield Design Center Brightens Local Orphanage

May 21, 2015

This past year, employees from PCA's design center in Fairfield, Ohio, participated in a community service project, helping to create a design and providing cutout corrugated elements for a wall mural outside a residence lunchroom at a local orphanage.

When the mural was unveiled, the children at St. Joseph Orphanage in Cincinnati cried and hugged volunteers in appreciation and excitement.

According to a Senior Designer: "Our team members here at the PCA Fairfield Design Center were very excited for the opportunity to serve our local community. Working with the team at the St. Joseph Orphanage, our printer partner, Trigon, and our hard-working design team, we were able to put some big smiles on some very grateful children's faces! We look forward to our next opportunity to help in our community."

For more information on the St. Joseph Orphanage and how you can help, please visit their website at www.stjosephorphanage.org.

PCA's design team received a large stack of thank you notes in appreciation for their work on the wall mural at the St. Joseph Orphanage.