

PCA Publishes Its 2017 Responsibility Report

July 27, 2018

PCA is pleased to announce that we have published our inaugural Responsibility Report, which contains comprehensive information about the products we manufacture, how we manufacture them and why. This report documents our commitment to sustainable and responsible growth over the long term, which ultimately benefits all of PCA's stakeholders.

Our objective is to be responsible environmentally, socially and economically, while producing the best packaging solutions.

The report covers all of those categories, and also includes information about our organizational profile, business strategy, governance and more.

PCA's 2017 Responsibility Report was produced in compliance with the Global Reporting Initiative™, whose standards are the first and most widely adopted global standards for sustainability reporting.
